

Quality policy

Proton Finishing

Proton Finishing's operations shall be characterized by the commitment of the employees and continuous improvements to help meet customer requirements and expectations.

The operations of Proton Finishing shall be characterized by employee commitment

Competent, creative and motivated staff are our greatest asset. All staff should be given the opportunity to develop and be appreciated for their work and to actively participate in the further development of the company.

Through continuous improvement

All business processes will be further developed through continuous improvement towards the goals set for the business unit. Through active improvement work, contribute to meeting customer requirements.

Helping to meet customer requirements and expectations

Proton Finishing will conduct well-managed customer and production-related product development where customers' specified requirements are met in the most resource-efficient ways. The customers' positive experiences are the basis for all work in Proton Finishing.

The aim is to develop long-term and profitable business relationships.